

Before The Sale:

Buyers Reception:

Each year we have a buyer's social prior to the sale. The buyer's social is a great way to interact with the exhibitors, their families, fellow supporters, and gives you time to view the animals prior to the sale.

Sale Day:

Please be sure to stop by the show office to become a registered bidder. You will receive a buyer's bid number at this time, as well as directions for the conclusion of the sale; such as buyer checkout, processor sheets, etc.

Benefits:

Quality Products:

All animals sold will grade select or better as determined by a state grader. You will receive top quality, locally raised beef, pork, lamb, and goat.

Support:

The livestock auction is a great place to show your community involvement and support of local youth. Throughout the year exhibitors learn feeding, grooming, training, record keeping, and proper livestock management practices. Exhibitors selling livestock may use the proceeds to reinvest in future projects or they may set their earnings aside for educational or business opportunities.

Advertising:

Your name will be announced during the sale, printed in the full page ad in The News-Gazette, as well as being listed in all show materials for 2010. Buyers also receive a thank you placard with a photo of the exhibitor and the animal purchased.

Processing:

Your purchase will be transported to your choice of the following processors at no charge. Please contact your processor near the settlement table or call to make arrangements.

- Green Valley Meat Processors- Monroe – (434) 299-5529
- Mullins Slaughterhouse – Stuarts Draft – (540) 337-1566
- Donald's Meat Processing- Lexington- (540) 463-2333

After The Sale:

Payment:

Payment, if at all possible, is to be made the night of the auction. If you are unable to attend, or have a "proxy bidder", please mail your checks to:
